The quality and granulometry of the aggregates must be subject to the approval of the Project Manager. This approval will only be acquired after the resistance tests on concrete test pieces carried out with the proposed aggregates have proved satisfactory.

Article B202- Hydraulic Binders

The cement used in the composition of ordinary or reinforced concrete and mortars will be of the class CPA 325 or CPJ 35. The use of aluminium cement will not be authorized as well as the cement mixture.

The cement should be stored in dry, well ventilated and effectively protected from the weather. The floor of the wooden or concrete premises will be at least 20 cm above the ground to avoid any rise in humidity. Each supply should be stored separately so that it can be easily identified and checked.

The cement must be used in the delivery order or as indicated by the Project Manager. The piling of the cement in bags will be done on a maximum height of 2 meters.

The tonnage of cement stored must be sufficient to ensure a consumption of at least one month during the site's activity. Any cement showing traces of humidity or setting will be compulsorily removed from the site.

Article B203 - Admixtures

The possible use of admixtures for making concrete will be subject to the approval of the control engineer. The adjuvants must be used in accordance with the prescriptions of Fascicle 65 of the CCTG, in particular with regard to the maximum dosage, the precautions to be taken and the contraindications. Chlorine additives are prohibited, air entrains must be approved by the Project Manager.

The implementation of the adjuvant must be such that it is guaranteed against any abnormal concentration, for this purpose, the mixing of the adjuvant and the mixing water will take place in the tank or in an auxiliary tank which will be fitted with a sufficiently powerful autonomous stirring device in constant movement.

Any additives used by the other party and supplied by him on the site must give rise to the presentation of a certificate of origin, indicating the deadline beyond which these products must be discarded.

Article B204 - Cure Products

Any curing products used for concrete will be subject to the prior agreement of the Project Manager and will comply with the prescriptions of Fascicle 65 of the CCTG

Article B205 - Composition of Concrete and Mortar

B205.1 Concrete

The concrete used for the construction of the works will meet the following specifications:

Designation	dosage in cement per m3	Destination	Resistance to 28 days - Compression - Mini traction	Report W / C maximum
Common concrete (BC)	200kg	Concrete of cleanliness		0.70
Quality concrete 1 (BQ1)	250kg	Concrete form	18 Pa 1.8 MPa	0.60
Quality concrete 2 (BQ2)	300kg	For the parts of works not armed or lightly armed	23 MPa 2.05 MPa	0.55
Quality concrete 3 (BQ3)	350kg	For works or parts of reinforced concrete structures	27 MPa 2.32	0.55

The cement dose indicated in the table cannot be reduced even if the resistance of the tests exceeds the prescribed values.

a) Consistency

The consistency of BQ2 and BQ3 quality concretes will be measured with the AGTM cone, the subsidence will be less than 5cm. The other party must in all cases have the necessary equipment to ensure satisfactory vibration of the concrete.

b) Composition

The study of the composition of concrete is the responsibility of the other party.

The Co-contracting party must present its proposals to the Project Manager and submit the particle size composition and the volumes of water to be incorporated per cubic meter for its approval, in good time to comply with the contractual execution deadline.

The other party has a period of fifteen (15) working days from the notification of the market to present the composition of the concrete.

The Project Manager will formulate his observations or give his approval within a period of seven (07) working days from the date of receipt of the Co-contractor's proposals.

Following approval by the Project Manager of the proposed concrete compositions, the Co-contractor will carry out mixing tests for each quality of concrete indicated. The tests must correspond to the manufacturing conditions on site.

The other party will only apply mixtures approved by the prime contractor.

B205.2. mortars

Depending on their destination, the mortars will have the following compositions:

M400: Mortar with 400 kg of cement per cubic meter of sand. It will be used to produce coatings for facings seen from structures (manhole cover slabs, superstructure structure).

M500: Mortar with 500 kg of cement per cubic meter of sand supplemented with Sika N1 product according to dosage prescribed by the manufacturer and subject to the approval of the Project Manager. This mortar will be used for interior plastering waterproofed works.

M600: Mortar dosed with 600 kg of cement per cubic meter of sand. It will be used for all seals (metal profile descending steps, etc.) and for repointing masonry Mortars will be made mechanically or, exceptionally, manually for very small quantities. The manufacturing equipment must provide the same dosing guarantees as for concrete.

Any mortar that has started to set or is dried will be rejected and should not be mixed with fresh mortar.

B205.3 Checking concrete

The Co-contracting party is responsible for carrying out the study tests and the convenience tests in good time to comply with its contractual obligations relating to execution times whatever the results of the said tests.

The test pieces will be produced in approved molds. Transport to the control laboratory of the convenience and information control test pieces will be carried out by the other party.

The concrete checks will be carried out according to the services in the table below:

Concrete class	Number of test pieces to collect	Compression	Frequency of trials Traction	Fresh concrete consistency
BQ2 300 kg	Per day of concreting - cylinders	2 trials at 7 days	2 trials at 7 days	1 per ½ day concreting
	6 prisms	4 tests at 28 days	4 tests at 28 days
BQ3 350 kg	Per day of concreting 10 cylinders	3 trials at 3 days 2 trials at 7 days	3 trials at 3 days 2 trials at 7 days	1 per ½ day concreting
	10 prisms (at the request of the engineer)	5 trials at 7 days	5 trials at 7 days

Works or parts of works, for which the tests thus carried out would show resistances lower by 15% than the required resistances, will be refused.

Article B207 - Compaction and Mixing Water

The supply of water is the responsibility of the other party. The proportion of materials in solution or in suspension in the compaction water must be low enough so that it does not cause a reduction in the qualities of the earthworks on the road.

The water used for both mixing and compaction must have the physical and chemical properties fixed by the standard defined in the specifications of Fascicle 65 of the CCTG. It must not exceed a temperature of 30 ° C and must not contain more than 2 g of dissolved salt per liter.

Doubtful waters will be subjected to chemical analysis by the care and expense of the other party.

Article B207 - Steels for Reinforced Concrete

The steels used for reinforced concrete will be the following:

Steels with high adhesion Fe400 conforming to the standards mentioned in the booklet 4 under title 1 of the CCTG

Minimum elastic limit: 400 MPa

For each supply of steels intended for works, the Co-contracting party will provide certificates indicating the results of tests undergone by the materials. If test results are not available, the Project Manager may refuse its use. The steels will be securely attached in bundles. The bundles must be clearly marked with the supplier, quality, delivery date and length, diameter and number of bars.

Reinforced concrete steels will be stored on supports above the ground and will be protected against rust, oil and other harmful influences.

Article B208 - Formwork

The formwork will consist of metallic elements, wood or any other equivalent material. They will be subject to the approval of the Project Manager.

The formwork for slabs, rafts and walls that remain in view will be smooth, ensuring smooth and regular surfaces.

They will comply with the prescriptions of Fascicle 65 of the CCTG

ARTICLE B209 - SHAPING OF REINFORCED CONCRETE REINFORCEMENTS

The conditions of use of the reinforcements must comply with the prescriptions of booklet 4, title 1 of the CCTG. Article 21 of Fascicle 65 of the CLC is supplemented as follows:

When it is necessary to constitute a reinforcement with several bars, the joints are distributed over a certain length so that, in a section, there are at least 2/3 of the continuous bars being admitted that the overlap of the reinforcements to improved adhesion will comply with the requirements of the reinforced concrete rules in force.

Immediately before installation, the steels will be clean and rust free. The reinforcements will be well fixed so that there is no risk of displacement during the pouring of the concrete. Are forbidden: deliberate folding and unfolding of reinforcements, assembly of reinforcements by welding.

Article B210 - Backfill Materials

B210.1 - General information

The materials used in embankments must have the following characteristics: Content of plant elements less than 1%; Grain size: no elements greater than 100 mm; Plasticity index: less than or equal to 40;

Lift: the index bearing immediate CBR (natural W) must be greater than or equal to 10 for compaction to 95% of OPM. The index bearing CBR is measured after 04 days of imbibition; Linear swelling: less than 3%.

It is the Contractor's responsibility to do all geotechnical studies at its expense on the soil in place and on the borrow places whose sites it will have searched for. The geotechnical studies which may be made available to the other party by the project manager are only given for information.

With regard to soils whose water content, at the time of use is too high to allow the minimum admissible compactness to be obtained, the other party will take all the necessary measures to aerate and reduce the water content to a value close to the optimum.

In addition, in floodplains, the base of embankments will be executed up to the height of the highest water with sand or any other equivalent material in order to accelerate the consolidation of the soil in place and to constitute a draining layer allowing the water circulation. The draining material should not contain more than 10% of fine elements. This provision is not valid for embankments serving as a dike for which the materials must be submitted to the approval of the Control Engineer.

B211 - Materials for embankment bodies

The embankment bodies will be made with the materials coming from the excavated material (vegetable and micaceous soil excluded). In case of poor quality or insufficiency, materials from the best loans approved by the Project Manager will be used, in accordance with articles B212.1, B325 and B326 of this document.

Article B212 - Materials for Foundation and Base Layer

The definition of the road body structures will be finalized in agreement with the Project Manager before the start of works.

The foundation layer will be executed:

- In lateritic gravel with a PI lower than 30 and a CBR higher than 35
- In natural grave reconstructed according to proposals allowing to obtain an IP lower than 30 and a CBR higher than 35.
- The base layer will be executed:
- Lateritic gravelly reconstituted according to the characteristics defined above
- The materials for the foundation and base layer must meet the specifications indicated in the table below,

0250	90	50
0125	100	85
0063	100	96

Article B 214.1 Gravel

The gravel used in the filters must be clean, healthy and durable. The particle size depends on the sand used for the filter and must comply with the following characteristics:

(D 50 gravel / D 50 sand) included 12 and 58

(D 15 gravel / D 85 sand) included 5 and 10

(D 50 gravel D 15 sand) included 12 and 40.

The Contractor will present to the Project Manager a sample of the gravel + which he proposes to use for the filter.

Content of plant elements less than 1%.

Grain size: no elements greater than 100 mm.

Plasticity index: less than or equal to 40.

Lift: the index bearing immediate CBR (natural W) must be greater than or equal to 10 for compaction to 95% of the OPM Linear swelling less than 3%.

Article B 214 Sand

The sands making up the filter must be clean, healthy and durable and must not contain any appreciable quantity of platelets or needles. Their grain size curve should correspond to the following table:

SIEVE (mm)	PASSING
	Maxi	Mini
1000	20	3
0500	50	10

The Co-contractor must, under his responsibility, organize his site so as to get rid of all kinds of water, maintain the flows and take all necessary measures so that they are not detrimental to the temporary works necessary for the evacuation runoff or infiltration water.

The other party is required to have sufficient and effective suction pumps on site.

Article B216 - Discharges

All products and materials to be removed from the site may be deposited at the expense of the other party:

At the public dump in agreement with the Project Manager and the Contracting Authority,

In a place specified by the Project Manager on the municipal territory,

In a place proposed by the Contracting Party with the agreement of the Project Manager

The cuttings put in permanent deposit will be equalized and leveled according to the indications of the Project Manager

Article B217 - Stripping of Vegetable Land

The contracting partner will strip the topsoil in the uncovered terraced areas, including the following operations:

Extraction and loading

Transport and storage in places approved by the Project Manager for reuse for planting operations

Article B218 - Land Movements

The Co-contractor will submit to the approval of the Project Manager within fifteen (15) days from the date of commencement of work, a land movement project.

This project must indicate in particular the deposit zones, the transport distances, the volumes of earth transported and the quality of the materials, defined by geotechnical tests at the expense of the other party.

B219.1 - Method of carrying out cuttings Excavation in loose ground

Excavation in soft ground corresponding to the first four categories designated above will be carried out using mechanical equipment. They will be sorted and placed in storage near their place of reuse or evacuated to the landfill if they are not reusable. Compaction of the form must be carried out so as to obtain a density equal to 95% of OPM over a thickness of 30 cm.

If the purges are necessary, the excavations will be carried out to the depth set by the Project Manager. The theoretical dimension of the cuttings will be made up by adding good soil which will be set up.

B 220. - Different categories of embankments

Embankments are classified into four categories:

- Category 1: Compacted embankments (IP <40 and CBR > 10)
- Category 2: Embankments in flood zones or swamps (IP <40 and CBR > 10) with interposition of a draining layer
- Category 3: Embankments for form layer (IP <40 and CBR > 15)
- Category 4: Embankments deposited (IP > 40 and CBR < 5).

B 220.1 - Origin of materials

The materials used in the construction of the embankments will come either from the excavated material or from the quarries or borrow areas proposed by the Co-contractor and approved by the Project Manager.

B220.2- Method of carrying out embankments

Embankments on ordinary terrain must comply with the specifications of article B210. They will be leveled over their entire width for the execution of the slopes (or by half if necessary), in layers having a slope of 2%, on which earthmoving and transport equipment having been assigned to their execution will circulate so as to exert on them a compression distributed as uniformly as possible.

The materials will be used in layers of maximum thickness, measured after compaction, of 20 cm over the entire width of the backfill up to the coasts provided by the plans and profiles.

The slope profile will be obtained by the excess backfill method, the training should be treated so that no hocks or irregularities appear. The slopes must be compacted to 90% of OPN (Optimum Proctor Normal).

The work must be carried out in such a way that after compaction or compression, the profiles indicated are produced to the tolerances.

It is expressly specified that the earthworks will be restarted each time the degree of compaction required. The materials will be used with a water content 1% higher than the optimal content and with a tolerance of more or less 3%.

The slopes will be protected against erosion until they are received.

Article B 221 - Compaction

Unless a specific exemption has been granted or prescribed by the Project Manager, the embankments will be methodically compacted with layers of maximum thickness, measured after compacting, 25 cm thick.

Each layer will be received before the next one is executed. The method of compacting will be subject to the approval of the Project Manager.

All the equipment that the Co-contractor proposes to use will appear on the list of equipment which will be attached to the offer. This list will mention the technical characteristics of the machines. Before any start of execution, the other party will calibrate its compaction equipment, the Project Manager will check the results of this operation.

The water content of the soil before implementation on the site must be able to be recognized regularly, continuously and safely. The compaction will be checked daily and at all requests from the Project Manager.

The approved materials which constitute the layers treated on unloading must be homogenized and scarified. If necessary, motor grader and harrow. The materials will be brought back within the range of water content necessary to obtain the prescribed dry density taking into account the necessary compaction energy (site test diagram), if they are too dry, the materials will be watered with regularly before and during compaction operations. On the contrary, if the materials prove to be too wet, the other party may reduce them to an acceptable content by prior desiccation activated by mechanical ventilation, harrowing or plowing. Otherwise, the site will be halted if the company does not accept the obligation to open a new loan deemed satisfactory. In any event, these soils will only be implemented with the agreement of the Project Manager, who may prescribe their evaluation outside the site and who remains the sole judge of the duration of the site's stoppage. This will be extended until the soils to be used are in the conditions necessary to obtain satisfactory compaction without the other party being able to consider that it is justified in claiming any compensation whatsoever for fixed assets.

It is expressly specified that the earthworks will be interrupted each time the degree of compaction required in this article cannot be ensured. The materials will be used at a water content close to the optimal water content to within  $\pm 2\%$ . Account should be taken of the evaporation which in the dry season is significant.

The different minimum degrees of compaction to be carried out will, for 90% of measurements, be greater than the following values:

	Mini	Tolerance (10% measurement)
- Soil receiving the embankments	90% OPM	88% OPM
- Embankment body	90% OPM	88% OPM
- Last layer of embankment (thick form layer. 30cm)	95% OPM	92% OPM
- Foundation layer	90% OPM	95% OPM
- Basecoat	95% OPM	96% OPM

In the event of deterioration due to the compaction of the embankments or the insufficiency of their characteristics, the Co-contracting party cannot in any way turn against the Client and must take back at its expense the deteriorated areas.

All measures will be taken to ensure the evacuation of runoff water without gullyng and without harming riparian properties.

Article B343 - Control of Profiling and Thicknesses

These controls will be carried out in the presence of the Contracting Party and the representative of the Project Manager. These points will be materialized by metal points leveled at the level of the roadway and indicated by a circular mark of white paint of 0.10 m in diameter with profile number corresponding to the project.

a) Longitudinal profile

No point of the axis of the finished roadway must deviate more than 1 cm more or less from the longitudinal profile of the project approved. These checks will be made every 200 m. The frequency can be increased at the request of the Project Manager.

b) Cross section

For streets where the width does not exceed 7 m, a circle with the theoretical profile of the roadway, applied in a plane perpendicular to the axis, should not highlight points located more than 2 cm below the edge of the hoop.

It is specified that this control will be carried out only once over the entire width of the roadway by means of a full circle and not by means of a semicircle applied successively on the right part and the left part.

When the width of the roadway no longer allows the use of the template, the control will be done using a level. As a general rule, no point on the road should be more or less 2 cm from the theoretical coast.

c) Thickness

This check will be carried out by three holes in the different layers on the same cross section, a hole in the axis of the road 1 m from the edge of the sidewalk.

The profiles will be spaced 100 m from each other, unless otherwise directed by the Project Manager. In any case, the thickness achieved may not be less than the thickness prescribed or defined by the Project Manager.

If the average thickness of the section is more than 0.25 cm and less than 1 cm less, a price reduction will be applied. Beyond this, the other party must use an additional layer, at least compensating, the thickness of which cannot be less than 3 cm.
