1. Background

1.1 Context and Justification

The context of implementation of this project is characterized by a number of factors. Cameroon is a lower-middle income country with significant economic growth potential which it has not fully capitalized on. The country represents 45 percent of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of the Central African Economic and Monetary Community (CEMAC, Communauté économique et monétaire de l'Afrique centrale), but is heavily commodity and oil dependent. The fiscal revenues and export earnings generated by the oil industry are acutely vulnerable to global commodity price risk. Serious development challenges that limit the country's growth potential include high risk of debt distress, incomplete implementation of fiscal reforms, climate change, and ongoing conflict in parts of the country.

Secondly, with the onset of COVID-19, the government-imposed containment measures became a contributing factor in job loss and increased vulnerability. However, just coming out of the COVID 19 pandemic crisis, supply chain issues and overall financial conditions have steepened the slowdown in economic growth experienced by Cameroon. Geopolitical conflicts like the Russia-Ukraine war have led to soaring prices and volatility in energy and grain markets causing financial and economic pains to many countries. This conflict has led to significant increase in agricultural commodity prices, which is exacerbating food insecurity and poverty in the rural areas. The prices of agricultural inputs and commodities and fuel are surging. This increase in prices is more pronounced for farm inputs like fertilizers, energy and wheat products. This situation in the NWR is compounded by the ongoing sociopolitical crisis in the North West and South West Regions and have had very serious consequences on food security and livelihoods of the poor populations of the Region.

These crises have undermined poverty reduction, created new pressures on natural resources in the Region and reduced both availability and affordability of food. The poverty map set up by the Government of Cameroon (GoC) in 2019 showed an increase in poverty in the Far North, Northwest, and Southwest regions since 2014. The poverty rate for these regions was 77 percent, 57 percent, and 21 percent respectively in 2019. Amidst these challenges, fears surrounding food shortage and security remain high, heightening the risk of continuing social unrest in the Region. Elsewhere, Climate change is a critical force weakening Cameroon's economic outlook and is the primary driver of food insecurity. The Region is facing a surge in extreme weather like erratic rainfall causing floods and droughts, high temperatures and violent winds.

Within this backdrop, the Government of Cameroon has put in place several measures to overcome these challenges. One of the measures put in place is the Cameroon Emergency Food Crisis Response Project (PULCCA).

1.2 Presentation of PULCCA

The Goal of the Project is to strengthen food and nutrition security and increase resilience to climate shocks of targeted households and producers. The aim of the project is to contribute to mitigating short-term impacts of food and nutrition insecurity in targeted areas, while simultaneously building long-term economic, climate, and community resilience. The project will target crisis affected (IPC3+) communities in the Far North, North, North West, Southwest, Adamawa, and East regions. The following key indicators will be used to track progress towards the achievement of the goal of the project. (i) share of households with Food Consumption Score (FCS) >35 or considered acceptable, (percentage); (ii) farmers reached with agricultural assets or services, disaggregated by gender (Corporate Results Indicator (CRI), number); and (iii) beneficiaries accessing market information and climate advisories via digital tools, disaggregated by gender (number). The Project is made up of five components, namely: -

- Component 1: Support for early response food and nutrition stabilization towards early recovery and resilience building (US$35 million equivalent)
- Component 2: Strengthening productive capacities of smallholders through crop and livestock support for climate and nutritional resilience (US$42 million)
- Component 3: Support for strengthening government food security crisis monitoring capacity, information systems, and agro meteorological services (US$13 million equivalent)
- Component 4: Project Management, Monitoring and Evaluation (US$10 million equivalent)
- Component 5: Contingent Emergency Response Component (US$0 million)

Component 2 of the Project is divided into 2 sub components.

- Sub-component 2.1: Support for food production for farmers and agri-food processors (US$24.5 million)
- Sub-component 2.2 Support to pastoralists and fishermen, and related processing (US$17.5 million)

Sub-component 2.1 will contribute to increasing the sustainable productive capacity of 100,000 eligible farming and agri-food processing beneficiaries, 60 percent of whom are women. It will finance the following activities: (i) the provision of inputs such as improved drought resistant seed varieties, fertilizer, and basic tools for primary production; including small scale-irrigation; (ii) supply of post-harvest and value-addition equipment with a focus on solar powered equipment; and (iii) development of community post-harvest infrastructure like storage facilities.

Reducing post-harvest losses contribute to climate adaptation and mitigation while promoting food security. This sub-component will include technical assistance to promote CSA techniques to strengthen producers' resilience to climate change.

These include optimal use of improved seeds and other inputs, sustainable irrigation and water harvesting, bio-intensive vegetable and fruit farming, and post-harvest management to reduce production/food losses. Much of the investment in this sub- component will support women engaged in communal gardening systems, helping them to meet the needs of their households and the demand for products in local markets – including HGSF in component 1.

Under sub component 2.1 the project will facilitate market access by fostering the capacity of farmers' organizations and cooperatives to aggregate, store, process, add value, and develop businesses that supply local markets and schools (through HGSF). When market supply is insufficient to meet demand, WFP's Global Commodity Management Facility (GCMF) located in Cameroon will purchase cereal and pulses and be careful not to distort local markets. Significant priority will be assigned to identifying and supporting women's groups and networks, targeting their ability to invest in value chains from production to markets.

The project will focus on activities that meet women's specific needs, including organization, finances, administration, harvest management during lean seasons, and determining how to earn a profit in local markets – including some larger markets. Women in Cameroon are less likely to sell their produce in wholesale, large retail, school, and supermarkets, and are less familiar with selling at fair prices to earn profits.

The project will support women to have greater access to bigger markets while increasing profitability. At the same time, the project will support community resilience by promoting the integration of refugee and IDP women in women's cooperatives, to work alongside host community women. The North West Development Authority (MIDENO) is one of the Executing Agencies of PULCCA with respect to the implementation of Component 2.1, in the North West Region.

1.3 Presentation of MIDENO/Executing Agency

The North West Development Authority (MIDENO) is an Administrative Public Establishment created in 1981 and placed under the Technical Tutelage of the Ministry in Charge of Agriculture and Rural Development (MINADER). The mandate of MIDENO as the secular arm of the Government in the Region to ensure the socioeconomic transformation of the Region through Supporting, Coordinating and Supervising Agro pastoral and Rural interventions in the Region. More specifically, MIDENO within the framework of her mandate ensures that farmers in the Region have access to improved farm inputs, especially seed and other essential inputs for primary production and post-harvest as well as organizing, structuring and building the capacity of farmers.

MIDENO has signed a Framework Agreement with PULCCA giving responsibility for the implementation of the activities of sub-Component 2.1 of the project in the North West Region to MIDENO from 2023 to 2025 projected to cost cfa 4,354,800,004 francs cumulatively. The North West Development Authority (MIDENO) intends to apply a portion of this financing for eligible payments under this Terms of Reference for the acquisition and distribution of various farm inputs to support primary production in the North West Region of Cameroon.

The Contracting Authority will evaluate and compare only the bids/quotations determined to be substantially responsive. In evaluating the quotations, the Contracting Authority will adjust for any arithmetical errors as follows:

- a) Where there is a discrepancy between amounts in figures and in words, the amount in words will govern;

- b) where there is a discrepancy between the unit rate and the line-item total resulting from multiplying the unit rate by the quantity, the unit rate as quoted will govern; and
- c) if a Supplier refuses to accept the correction, his quotation will be rejected.
- d) In addition to the quoted price, the evaluated price shall include Value Added Tax (VAT) in Cameroon

The award will be made to the bidder offering the lowest evaluated price that meets the required standards of technical and financial capabilities and within the budget.
