4) 101 - BUSH CLEARING

Description of works

These works consist of removing vegetation and cleaning the edges of the road as well as on its immediate surroundings, felling trees and/ or trimming tree branches obstructing visibility, etc.

Mode of execution of works

This consists of clearing all vegetation at a width of two meters from the outer edge of the gutter and scraping and discarding vegetative soil from the road surface. These are labor intensive works carried out by groups of workers recruited from the community and equipped with the necessary tools to carry out the job.

5) 102 - Setting out of the structure

Description of works

This consists of carrying out activities geared at positioning the bridge at the coordinates such that its axis will align with that of the access road from the both sides. Also, the characteristics of the structure as designed should be respected.

Mode of execution of works

This consists of using pegs and lines and with the help of a levels position the bridge such it should be at right angle relative to the road with the wing walls at 45 degrees relative to the road or front walls of the bridge. Equally, the position of the areas to be excavated for the abutment including the working space should be materialized. As such the length and span of the bridge as well as the wing walls, the front wall and the abutment will be positioned. After the excavation these parameters will be verified first before the bridge works proper starts

6) 203.1 - Excavation in ordinary terrain for the abutments and for the deviation of the existing river bed

Description of works

This consists of digging to free the space set for the construction of the bridge. The various parameters set out will be respected in the excavation. Also, the depth of the foundation as per the results of geotechnical studies should be respected i.e. 1.6m from the bed of the river

Mode of execution of works

This consists of excavating in ordinary terrain for the abutments and for the deviation of the existing river bed and also for the creation of a bed off stream to deviate the existing stream to join the main bed Length=50m, width=1m depth=1m.

NB: The excavation must be received by the Project Manager before the next phase can continue

7) Foundation layer lateriting

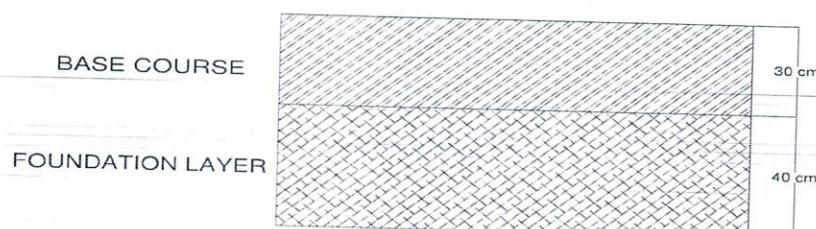

This is to be done mechanically. The areas where fills are to be executed will be watered prior to the dump trucks bringing in the laterite material from the borrow pits. The equipment that we use during the exercise are a grader, a backhoe or frontend loader, a bulldozer, dump trucks, compactors, and water tanks. The foundation layer shall have a thickness of 40 cm in total with two layer of compaction of 20 cm each prior to the insertion of the base layer.

8) Concrete gutters

Concrete V-shaped gutters shall be inserted at the side of the roads to act as drainage shannels for surface and vertical water that seeps into it. The concrete used for these concrete gutters shall be dosed at 350 kg/m³ and the plan is as seen in the appendices.

9) Base layer

The base layer shall be made up of aggregate with diameters 0/31.5 and shall have a thickness of 30 cm. the aggregate shall be placed in two sets, with each set having a thickness of 15cm, bitumen and compaction shall be done two times for each set placed. The aggregate to be used for the base course shall be procured from any nearby quarry.

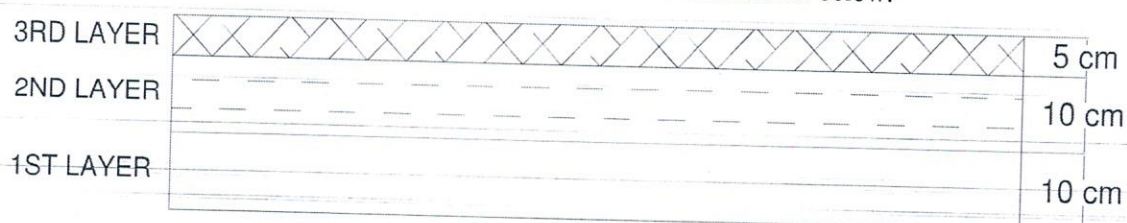

10) Three-layer surface dressing

After the base course has been placed, treated, and compacted, a three-layer surface dressing shall be done to preserve the strength, durability, and usability of the road. The three layers shall be of the following thicknesses and harbour aggregate of the following sizes.

Layer	Aggregate size	Layer thickness (cm)
1 st layer	15/25	10
2 nd layer	5/15	10
3 rd layer	0/5	5

The diagrammatical representation of the different thicknesses is as shown below.

11) Concrete of steep slopes

Concrete dosed at 400 kg/m³ will be used in the concreting of steep slopes with gradients greater than 15% on the road stretch around this area.

12) 205 – 207 Backfilling of the bridge and filling and resurfacing of the accesses to the bridge

Description of works

This involves realization of the technical bloc and the linking to the existing carriage way (road). These works shall be executed mechanically and manually with material extracted from a borrow pit approved by the project manager. The soil used for the fill shall present the following characteristics:

- CBR at 95% of OPM after four days of immersion ≥ 40
- Maximum dry density at 95% OPM (T/M3) ≥ 1.8
- Plasticity index (PI) ≤ 25
- Percentage of fine grains $< 0.075 \text{ mm}$ $5 \leq F \leq 30$

The selected material from the borrow pit shall be laid on a trench and plate form previously shaped and compacted at a dry density of at least 90% OPM. The material shall be laid in horizontal layers of 20cm thick and having a water content equal to that of OPM before compaction ($\pm 2\%$).

The fill is compacted methodically up to 95% of the dry density of OPM. The rate of compaction shall be verified in-situ with a membrane densitometer at every 1000m². A sample compaction test shall be carried out to determine of passes necessary to obtain the required compaction rate.

13) 305 – Stone masonry

Description of works

This consists of realizing the parts of the bridge with well-shaped and assembled stones according to the aesthetic and type of the structure (form, dimension of stones, joints, Etc...) while respecting the works of arts.

The mortar will be dosed at three hundred and fifty (350) kg of cement per m³ of sand.

The visible faces of the stone masonry should be regular. The minimum height of the shaped stones should not be less than fifteen (15) cm.

The finishing of the external joints will be realized with done with mortar M450.

Mode of execution of works

This consists of

Mode of execution of works

These works shall be done exclusively manually (shaping of stones, humidification, elevation, bonding, pointing)

14) 309a, 309b, 309c and 309d - Lean concrete dosed at 150Kg/m³, Mass concrete dosed at 350Kg/m³, Reinforced concrete dosed at 400Kg/m³ and Reinforced concrete dosed at 350Kg/m² for the bridge's raft

Description of works

These works consist of the supply and putting in place of concrete 150Kg/m³ for the lean concrete, at 350Kg/m³ for the mass concrete and 400Kg/m³ for the reinforced concrete.

The concretes A.400 for the reinforced concrete must have a minimum compression resistance of 270 bars at 28 days.

This task includes notably the: • supply including the transport to the site of materials (cement, sand, gravel etc) and the tools necessary for the precast of the slabs; • form works with planed planks; • transport and the putting in place of the stones including all contingencies; • Execution of all contingencies related to traffic flow and to the respect of environmental prescriptions; • and all other contingencies.

Formwork - Form work

This operation consists of casing the different surfaces when necessary, before concreting. Parts of the work requiring formwork will be approved by the Project Manager. The formworks will be of robust construction because they are called upon to support, depending on the case, the thrust of the fresh concrete or the weight of the construction until the structure is unbent.

The different parts will be assembled in a simple manner to allow stripping of the formwork without spalling the concrete. This simplicity will, however, not allow any negligence in the distribution of joints. Panels already used will be warped and the edges will peel.

It will be used for certain categories of formwork for fatty or plastic release products. These products must be approved by the Project Manager.

The construction of the formworks will also be specified as prescribed by the CCTP, according to the category, in order to preserve, among other things, the homogeneous coating of the reinforcements and the final dimensions of the works.

The fixings of the interior formwork to the concrete must only be those which appear on the working drawings approved by the project manager.

To keep the reinforcements at a fixed distance from the formwork, concrete wedges (or any other material approved by the Project Manager, plastic for example) can be used in which wire ties have previously been embedded. In no case will any metallic element be located at a distance less than the minimum cover provided for the reinforcements.

504b - Putting in place of metallic I beam 400 including the bracing

Description of works

Steel beams: IPE - Metallic I beam 400 including the bracing

This work consists of installing IPE beams. Before any work begins, the project manager must define or approve the IPE beam to be installed. The new IPE beams will be directly protected against rust by a coat of anti-corrosive paint.

The steels used are commercial laminates, in weldable mild steel, the grade of which is subject to the approval of the Project Manager. They must meet the requirements of chapter III of fascicle 4 of the French CCTG. In particular, the mechanical characteristics of these profiles must meet the NF A 35-501 or NF A 36-201 standards.

15) 601a and 601b - Anti-rust paint and Oil Paint

Paints

The protective paints to be applied on the metal profiles previously brushed white, are of the glycerophthalic type, and must be subject to the prior approval of the Delegated Project Manager.

In all cases an anti-rust undercoat of a different color will be put in place beforehand.

16) 901c - Mix guard rails (concrete pillars and metallic pipes)

Guardrail - Mix guard rails

This operation includes the replacement or supply and installation of bodyguards on the structure. This work will be defined when the development plans are drawn up. The guardrail elements will be installed and adjusted in alignment and altitude. It will be verified that the amounts will be vertical. The sealing of the uprights will be made with concrete dosed at 400kg/m³ and must comply with the standard plan. The sealing of the uprights will only take place after verification by the Project Manager of the perfect alignment of the guardrail. The surfacing of the sealing concrete will be careful so that water cannot remain where the uprights are embedded.

Depending on their condition, and after approval by the Project Manager, the guardrails may receive protective anti-corrosive paint.

17) 902a - Triangular sign posts type A or AB

Triangular sign posts type A or AB

The danger signs will be placed 150m from the point at the start of the zone to be signposted in open countryside and 50m in the built-up area.

Prescription signs, except for certain signs, notably mandatory ones, which must be installed as danger signs.

Direction signs will be placed 100m from the point at the start of the zone to be reported in the case of open country and 40m in built-up areas.

Vertical signage includes retro-flexing galvanized sheet metal signs, pre-signage, location or directional signs. The location of the different panels is designated by the Delegate Project Manager. The work consists of placing signs, pre-signaling, location or directional signs along the roadway in the shoulder, in the locations provided by the project manager.

The panels and their installation will comply with the technical requirements.

18) 905b - Wooden post markers

Tags - Wooden post markers

The turn markers are J1 type 2 markers with a circular section (diameter 150 mm) and a height of 80 cm from the level of the shoulder. The markers are made of fiber cement, enameled or galvanized sheet metal, plastic, B 300 concrete, or wood.

Among the Cameroonian wood species possessing these required characteristics, we can cite: Doussie, Moabi, Tali, Azobé, Iroko and Bibinga. (See § 11.13 above)

They are located on the outer shoulder of the bend, the axis one meter from the outer edge of the wearing course. The spacing between two consecutive markers is equal to 10 meters, unless an exemption is granted by the Delegated Project Manager. The beacons carry a retro-reflective device consisting of a strip 100 mm high placed 150 mm from the head of the beacon.

19) 909 - Weep holes

Barbicans - Weep holes

This operation consists of installing barbicans made of ϕ 40 PVC pipe for drainage of materials located behind the abutments or retaining walls. The work consists of placing, in accordance with the technical specifications and the plans of the technical file, barbicans made of PVC pipe ϕ 40

20) 910 - Drainage pipes

Gargoyle - Drainage pipes

This operation consists of installing gargoyles in PVC pipe ϕ 100 for the evacuation of water from the deck. The work consisting of placing, in accordance with the technical requirements and the plans of the technical file, gargoyles made of PVC pipe ϕ 100

21) 1001 - Deviation- pedestrians crossing of the bridge

Maintain the traffic - Deviation - pedestrians crossing of the bridge

This task is envisaged in the event that it is necessary for the construction and maintenance of temporary works and a track for possible diversion necessary to maintain traffic.

22) SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

Safety measures shall be put in place to safeguard the health of the workers. They shall be Equipped with personal protective equipment like helmets, boots, gloves, goggles, rain coats etc. a first aid box shall be provided on the site to render first aid services in case of any accident. Before the start of each task, workers shall be reminded of the potential hazards associated with that task and the safety measures to be taken to avoid possible accidents. Working points shall be well signaled to road users using sign boards placed at adequate positions that can be visible to everyone.

Every area from which soil is to be extracted shall be covered with vegetative soil at the end of the job to facilitate the growth of vegetation and to avoid erosion.
