Terms of Reference (ToR) for the Acquisition and Delivery of Farm Inputs to Vulnerable Farmers in the North West Region within the Framework of the Emergency Project to Combat Food Crisis in Cameroon (PULCCA)

1. Background

1.1 Context and Justification

The context of implementation of this project is characterized by a number of factors. Cameroon is a lower-middle income country with significant economic growth potential which it has not fully capitalized on. The country represents 45 percent of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of the Central African Economic and Monetary Community (CEMAC, Communauté économique et monétaire de l'Afrique centrale), but is heavily commodity and oil dependent. The fiscal revenues and export earnings generated by the oil industry are acutely vulnerable to global commodity price risk. Serious development challenges that limit the country's growth potential include high risk of debt distress, incomplete implementation of fiscal reforms, climate change, and ongoing conflict in parts of the country.

Secondly, with the onset of COVID-19, the government-imposed containment measures became a contributing factor in job loss and increased vulnerability. However, just coming out of the COVID 19 pandemic crisis, supply chain issues and overall financial conditions have steepened the slowdown in economic growth experienced by Cameroon. Geopolitical conflicts like the Rusia-Ukraine war have led to soaring prices and volatility in energy and grain markets causing financial and economic pains to many countries. This conflict has led to significant increase in agricultural commodity prices, which is exacerbating food insecurity and poverty in the rural areas. The prices of agricultural inputs and commodities and fuel are surging. This increase in prices is more pronounced for farm inputs like fertilizers, energy and wheat products. This situation in the NWR is compounded by the ongoing sociopolitical crisis in the North West and South West Regions and have had very serious consequences on food security and livelihoods of the poor populations of the Region.

These crises have undermined poverty reduction, created new pressures on natural resources in the Region and reduced both availability and affordability of food. The poverty map set up by the Government of Cameroon (GoC) in 2019 showed an increase in poverty in the Far North, Northwest, and Southwest regions since 2014. The poverty rate for these regions was 77 percent, 57 percent, and 21 percent respectively in 2019. Amidst these challenges, fears surrounding food shortage and security remain high, heightening the risk of continuing social unrest in the Region. Elsewhere, Climate change is a critical force weakening Cameroon's economic outlook and is the primary driver of food insecurity. The Region is facing a surge in extreme weather like erratic rainfall causing floods and droughts, high temperatures and violent winds.

Within this backdrop, the Government of Cameroon has put in place several measures to overcome these challenges. One of the measures put in place is the Cameroon Emergency Food Crisis Response Project (PULCCA).

1.2 Presentation of PULCCA

The Goal of the Project is to strengthen food and nutrition security and increase resilience to climate shocks of targeted households and producers. The aim of the project is to contribute to mitigating short-term impacts of food and nutrition insecurity in targeted areas, while simultaneously building long-term economic, climate, and community resilience. The project will target crisis affected (IPC3+) communities in the Far North, North, North West, Southwest, Adamawa, and East regions. The following key indicators will be used to track progress towards the achievement of the goal of the project. (i) share of households with Food Consumption Score (FCS) >35 or considered acceptable, (percentage); (ii) farmers reached with agricultural assets or services, disaggregated by gender (Corporate Results Indicator (CRI), number); and (iii) beneficiaries

The project will support women to have greater access to bigger markets while increasing profitability. At the same time, the project will support community resilience by promoting the integration of refugee and IDP women in women's cooperatives, to work alongside host community women. The North West Development Authority (MIDENO) is one of the Executing Agencies of PULCCA with respect to the implementation of Component 2.1, in the North West Region.

1.3 Presentation of MIDENO/Executing Agency

The North West Development Authority (MIDENO) is an Administrative Public Establishment created in 1981 and placed under the Technical Tutelage of the Ministry in Charge of Agriculture and Rural Development (MINADER). The mandate of MIDENO as the secular arm of the Government in the Region to ensure the socioeconomic transformation of the Region through Supporting, Coordinating and Supervising Agro pastoral and Rural interventions in the Region. More specifically, MIDENO within the framework of her mandate ensures that farmers in the Region have access to improved farm inputs, especially seed and other essential inputs for primary production and post-harvest as well as organizing, structuring and building the capacity of farmers.

MIDENO has signed a Framework Agreement with PULCCA giving responsibility for the implementation of the activities of sub-Component 2.1 of the project in the North West Region to MIDENO from 2023 to 2025 projected to cost cfa 4,354,800,004 francs cumulatively. The North West Development Authority (MIDENO) intends to apply a portion of this financing for eligible payments under this Terms of Reference for the acquisition and distribution of various farm inputs to support primary production in the North West Region of Cameroon.
